Snares, Toms and Bass Drum Cases

The Ultimate in Protection

Rotational molding and functional design combine to create the quintessential line of drum, percussion and hardware transport cases. SKB drum cases are superior in every detail and feature X-pattern for secure stacking, completely padded interiors and indestructible hardware. All popular drum sizes are available along with two different cymbal cases accommodating up to 24" cymbals and a multitude of hardware and trap cases.

Consistent designed-in excellence and unwavering manufacturing standards allow every SKB case to proudly carry a Lifetime Warranty.

All cases are oversized to accommodate normal hardware and mounts. If RIMS® are used, increase to the next size case.

Marching Percussion Cases

SKB, the hardshell drum case choice of thousands of drummers, offers a complete line of marching percussion cases, ideal for college marching bands, drum corps, competitive high school bands and drum lines. SKB recognizes the challenge of purchasing equipment for most school music programs and the wear and tear that marching percussion instruments must endure. Therefore, the engineers at SKB designed a complete line of marching percussion cases, rotationally molded to introduce a new level of impact and transport protection for the precious and often expensive school marching percussion equipment. Backed by SKB's Lifetime Warranty, this is probably the last set of cases any school will have to buy.

SKB marching percussion cases come in a complete range to accommodate 13" and 14" snare drums, 16" through 32" bass drums, as well as a quad/quint case. Each case comes complete with sturdy handles and straps with easy to snap "parachute" clasps and are foam lined for maximum instrument protection against dings. Some of the larger cases have molded-in structural ribs for maximum strength and stability. Each case has SKB's patented X-pattern allowing band directors to stack cases for efficient storage and transportation.
